

WE ARE LIKE ARTICHOKEs: GETTING TO THE HEART OF THE MATTER - soulful philosophies & food for thought

Is it a random happening that you are holding this book in your hands or does your next step lie within its pages? Herein is an investigation of short philosophies. It is the authors hope that each reader extracts even one thought then thoroughly and comprehensively live that thought. Why? It will change your life. About the Author Francesca Beccari is a Spiritual Advisor and Dream Interpreter who has developed a unique approach to helping others find meaning and expression in their lives. We Are Like Artichokes is a soul journey, a powerful analysis that will sometimes make you laugh, cry and consider the possibilities of the world. Artichokes inspires and motivates each of us to peel back the layers and face our fears. Francesca encourages us to live our best life imaginable and to continually strive for truth. Francesca always walked that white path alone, the one that never seems to be popular because it is bare of hypocrisy, stripped of deceit. Choosing this path has taught her to help those who seek, as she does. Her eyes remain single. It is set on continually unfolding the truth in hope that you, also, may entrust yourselves to do the same. Some might say that she is the Fool on the Hill.
